

Phone:Youghal 6210

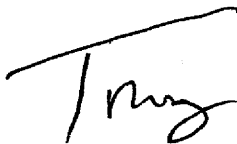

Still Point,
Dromore,
Aglish,
Cappoquin,
Co Waterford,
Ireland

March 19 1980

Dear Sylvia,

Although we last spoke on rather bad terms, I think it's only courteous to bring you up to date on the progress of my JFK book. It ended up being called Conspiracy (courtesy of the HSCA), and McGraw-Hill publish in the States in May. It has received a decent amount of good advance notices, including some from rather unlikely people. In general, it seems set as fair as could be expected at this time to provoke what further discussion and progress we could hope for towards more positive steps on the case. I'm in touch with the other key researchers we both know, and will take their advice on ways I can help to further serious enquiry during the book publication period. If you too have thoughts, I shall of course welcome them. I do hope you are feeling better and rested this year. I also hope, although I never did figure out quite how I'd sinned, that you and I some time soon have a chance to mend fences.

Sincerely,

Anthony Summers

P.S. Once again, thanks for all your help, especially re.
McGraw-Hill.