Dear Sylvia :

Your daily calls to my wife regarding my condition, my present state of health, my life touched us deep in our hearts.

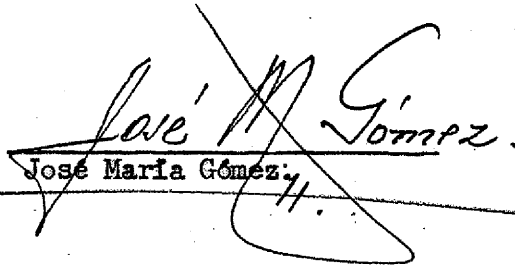

Thanks for your daily calls. They have meant so much for me and much more for my wife.

They indeed spelled out the constant memory you make of us, your pervading affection, your sincerity and wholeness in our relationship as friends.

Anytime you need my punches to help you in your moments of distress call on me, since I feel much stranger now.

I am grateful to Divine Providence for the green earth, the air I brēth, the food that nourishes me, the semiwork I do but especially I am grateful for your friendship.

Our best love,

~~José María Gómez.~~
