Dear Sylvia,

Paul has just passed on the Scarecrow catalog, and I was glad to see their announcement of the Master Index "in production." Since there are no ordering instructions, I thought I'd ask you to let me know when it can be ordered and at what price. I very much look forward to having it on hand.

As Paul may have told you, I'm resettled in California and am working with Tink as a private investigator. We're having a great time, but there is still no mystery to compare to the JFK assassination.

I hope you're having good fall weather in New York. I miss those changing seasons.

All the best,

Russ
