Dear Sylvia:

Thank you for your recent letter with its kind remarks regarding DeLloyd's and my Bibliography.

Much to my chagrin your Master Index appeared too long after our cut off date to be included. Our last date for the particular section it would have been listed was almost a year ago. Hopefully researchers will look under your name and find the new one in card catalogues. I must admit that when I first got the volume I right away used it for checking some notes I had made on Humes' testimony or lack thereof before the HSCA and his testimony before the WR. It is a most useful, well organized, clear, and easy to use volume that must have consumed much time and much patience. It will be especially important to the many who will be writing papers, researching for books, and seeking to verify facts.

If I can get a review accepted by a journal I intend to send one and am now searching for the editor who would be so inclined.

My travels rarely take me to the east and the Big Apple country but your invitation to a drink if I do certainly places it at the top of my priorities now.

Best Regards,
