Dec. 18

Dear Sylvia,

Back from Paris where the weather was awful but the people - and the city - nice. And I got some reasons for optimism about my books.

I'm enclosing my dossier for the book. I'll call you as soon as I know where I stand among the accumulated masses of books, papers, letters, bills, theater notices, etc.

Do you know that meanwhile, we became grand-parents for the second time: my daughter Maricou had a son Marc (in Los Angeles, alas) -

Regards from both of us

Léo
