Dear Sylvia:

Hope this note finds you well. Everyone seems all right here.

The morning paper says Britain may invade the Falklands by in the morning. I don't know about you but if it's the case that one of these nations has to lay claim to the islands, I'd rather it be GB than a right-wing police state outfit that was really more on the side of the Nazis than the Allies in WW II. Times change and all that but still there has to be some basic allegiance left in the world or else we all may as well sell out to the highest bidder. Of course Carol Anne will always be against GB because of the Irish question, regardless of the merits of the case or when or where.

I was glad to hear that Ted is more or less back in circulation. CA said she had a nice time at dinner with you and him several weeks back. She was in White Plains last week for a few days but didn't have time to get into the city or anything, it was just an up-and-back thing.

We may or may not have let you know that we're coming ~~to~~<sup>to</sup> New York for a little vacation in June. My son, Eric, is coming from Stanford and her daughter, Karen, will also make the trip. We're to get there Saturday June the 12th and ~~leave~~ leave Sunday the 20th. We'll be staying at the Chelsea apartment kept by ~~one of the~~ one of the American Airlines people who made the corporate move to Dallas three years ago, so we'll be in walking distance of 12th & Eighth. Eric is a freshman out there; he very much looks forward to meeting you, as I've ~~told~~ told him of you in letters. Though he's never been there, he's fallen in love with Manhattan through books and movies. So we'll be giving you a holler in about a month or so.

Mary Ferrell is as dynamic and yet as unfathomable as ever. Her latest side project is to learn Irish Gaelic. That's a little bit surprising (but so are so many things she does) in that Carol Anne is the avowed Irish bug while Mary is a fairly strong student of English history. Mary always asks after you.

I believe I read that the charges against Eve Roshan had been dropped. Have any new ones been filed? Please say hello to Sonya for us when you see her.

Reagan is said to have said in his radio talk Saturday that the rising unemployment is the fault of the Democratic Party and the left-wing press. Maybe, then, the voters will give the Republicans an even bigger victory this fall than they did in 1980. But I wouldn't bet on it.

Well, just wanted to sort of touch base with you. Will be seeing you soon. Carol Anne of course says hello.

Best,

Tom
