Dear Ms. Meagher:

I am returning your article which I've already copied. I am also sending a copy to Henry. ←

I wish I could come up with an original way to thank you in this letter, instead of making it read like all the others. Unfortunately, my imagination fails me at the moment. So I'll resort to simplicity: thank you, not only for your continued and priceless help, but also for making yesterday's lunch meeting one of the most enjoyable I've had in a long time.

Very truly yours,

Sissi
