Dear Mrs Meagher,

After long and repeated delays
I have at last receive my Supplements from the printers.
I feel very sick of the mess
they have made of the late entries.
I phoned them a month ago to add
"Two Flight Paths" by R B Cutler and I told them I would waive passing the galley proofs to save time and to run them off at once so I could start mailing the adverts off before the holidays.

They made such a good job with the main text I thought there would not be many errors in the late entries.

There is nothing I can do about it now.

I phoned them and asked what the trouble was and they said the compositor that did the main text quit the job and they put a new man on the late entries.

Apart from the omission of Two Flightpaths there is not much of imports in the late entries that is not legible.

At least your entry no 997 USDK I think I told you before that I could not get a publisher. I had a job to get a printer to take it on.

I have a mailing list of 1325 Colleges and Universities and will start mailing out the advert leaflet at 100 per week on January 3. Mr Stanley Marks wrote me that he is starting to publish a left wing magazine. I wish you a merry Xmas and a happy New Year. Sincerely W.C. Thompson
