Dear Miss Meagher:

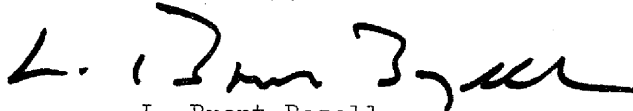

"The controversy, the public and private discussion, the sense of national unease concerning President Kennedy's assassination grows." Thus begins TRIUMPH magazine's lead editorial this month.

On November 4, President Johnson announced his readiness to order the investigation of any new evidence concerning the assassination. New evidence was revealed by our magazine in its very first issue (September 1966). That evidence has already been cited by columnists William F. Buckley, Ralph de Toledano, and most recently, John Chamberlain, as grounds for a new examination of the tragic Dallas events.

TRIUMPH's September article was written by Lawrence R. Brown. Mr. Brown is the author of Assassination, to be published by Arlington House in 1967.

If Mr. Brown's article has not yet been brought to your attention, I feel it would be of great interest to you. I am, therefore, sending you the enclosed copy, together with a copy of this month's issue of TRIUMPH.

Sincerely,

L. Brent Bozell
