Dear Ken,

Thanks for your note of the 20th. I had phoned you once but did not leave a message, mainly to tell you that my ms. has been accepted and is scheduled to be published in the fall. This news came a few days after Christmas, when you were away, and I have been hellishly frantically busy since then, not with the manuscript alone but with collateral matters and at times with office work to be done at home at night. In the middle of all that, I had to keep my long-standing commitment to speak at the University of Victoria, and then I spent a few days in the Quebec Laurentians. We missed you when we saw the Bergstroms. Have you heard from Dr. Wecht, or contacted him, in some time, thanks to the unremitting pressures under which I have been working. I had a talk with Harold Flynt [illegible] when we saw the Bergstroms. Harold said definitely that it would be out before my book.

Please don't hesitate to telephone—if I am too pressed to speak long I will tell you so, and I know that you will understand. I appreciated our conversations, too, and your many acts of thoughtfulness.

Warm regards,

Sylvia Meagher
