Dear Turk —

after re-reading Gregory's testimony, I now agree that the fragments were "missing" from the post-operative X-ray and not lost. I will change my text accordingly. Thanks for raising this question and saving me the embarrassment of retreating after publication.

It was delightful to see you the other night. The demonstration on Saturday was quite awe-inspiring — LBJ will probably "react" by local action, showing us where we get off.

Keep in touch!

Sylvia
