

12 Rogers Ave. Bellport, Long Island, NY

MADLINE H. GODDARD

10 WEST 16th STREET

NEW YORK, NEW YORK 10011 11713

July 29, '67

Dear Mrs. Heaghen -

It was a great pleasure to meet you and to talk, and I do hope you were not too tired. I shouldn't have stayed so long, but the hours went by so fast I could scarcely believe it was as late as it was.

Just a brief comment or two!

Thanks to going over the typescript, I now find the CBS Inquiry far more mischievous and outrageous than formerly.

Since I was familiar mainly with the 4th
and most acceptable (I think) section.

Perhaps Marguerite Oswald suspects
Shirley Martin of being an agent because Mrs. Martin may have been somewhat "taken in" by infiltrators. That Willis?? He seems to have influence with Mark.

Some parts of Forgive My Grief II seem to me to reflect planted evidence, leads etc. I think there were some pretty astute con men (or women) around...
among other things leading Garrison into relying on what appears to me to be phony photographic evidence.

I think I should mention that, as I waited outside Apt. 16 D (doorman's error) for you to come to the door, two TV repairmen rang at the apartment next door. They had a box with them which could easily have contained a tape recorder. There was a bit of a fluster. The man next door said he didn't know his neighbor's name but that she had a telephone. I have jotted down a note of the incident - a foolishness maybe but just possibly flushes some long-eared folk out of the bushes!

Thank you for asking me in and for putting up with the presumptuous ways
of one who has not had anything published.

With the greatest regard for your
work and personal good wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Fadela Gaddar