Dear Mr. Berkeley,

Yes, indeed, I would like to buy some copies of Accessories at $1.98. They cost me $5.10 a copy from my own publisher. If it is not too much trouble for you, might I buy ten copies? I enclose my check for $24.00 to cover the cost of ten of the books @ $1.98, plus shipping and incidentals. Should this sum prove inadequate, I will of course send you a further payment of additional charges. If I could have some kind of bill of sale, it would be useful for income tax purposes.

I am very grateful for your thoughtful note and for your kind offer to obtain a supply of the book for me, as I do not have a single spare copy on hand. Many thanks.

With kind regards,

Sylvia Meagher
