Dear Paul:

I am enclosing a check for $50.00. This will cover the $30.00 I already owe you, and please apply $20.00 toward future postage and documents...

In your letter to Jim Kostman, you mention Milo Elroy Stormo. There are four pages in CD 1347 about him, pp. 195-198. The only interest I had in these pages - Jeanne DeMohrenschildt's brother, Sergei Fomenko, lived in Woodland Hills, California, where Stormo had worked for Litton Industries. We are fairly certain Fomenko had worked on the Manhattan Project. I don't know how large Woodland Hills is, but, of course, I wondered if they knew each other.

I am enclosing a few pages from the Hearings before the Committee on Un-American Activities... the cover page, the table of contents, the index and one page mentioning Phillip Abbott Luce. His name appeared in John Glenn's testimony on November 18, 1963. You may pass this on to Jim Kostman, if you think he would be interested.

Best regards,

JOHN GLENN EXHIBIT No. 3--Continued

Jack: I might add to that, the reason the authorities did not try to stop us in New York when they thought we were going by way of Toronto, was that they knew that the Canadian Government would not permit the trip go from Canadian soil, as it did not permit the trip to go last December.

Announcer: Jack, what do you do in the states?

Jack: I am a lawyer.

Announcer: How about you, Marsha?

Marsha: I am a student at Indiana University, in Latin American studies.

Announcer: I see. Of course, you have been here in Cuba a very short time, but have you seen anything?

Jack: Well, I think the thing that strikes me and strikes most of the group most of all if the overwhelming and spontaneous support of the Cuban Government by the people, just everybody that you run into is just (pause--Ed.)--the enthusiasm is just (another pause--Ed.)--well, you don't know what to make of it. I think there is probably more enthusiasm of the Cuban people for their Government than for any other Government I have ever seen--any other people for any other Government I have ever seen.

Announcer: How about you, Marsha?

Marsha: Yes, I second that wholeheartedly. One other thing we did this morning was to travel through Havana by bus and then stop for about an hour in the East Havana housing project, which has been entirely built by the revolution, about four years ago--about three and a half or four years ago. And this is a project that holds--how many families (Jack whistles in background: 1,600--Ed.) 1,600 families. People who were taken primarily from slum areas that now have been removed, and moved into the housing project. Most of the apartments are three-bedroom apartments with a bathroom and a kitchen that is fully equipped, with modern refrigerators and stoves, and a dining room--living room combination and a patio. And these people pay 10 percent of their salaries as rent per month for these apartments. It is just phenomenal. Also the fact, too, that these are very highly integrated; there is no apparent difference between white Cubans or black Cubans or people of other nationalities--they all live together as one and are extremely happy.

Announcer: How long do you plan to stay around in Cuba?

Jack: The trip is planned for one month: We will be leaving about 1 August. We'll spend about two weeks altogether in Havana, and two weeks in the countryside, but I'm sure we'll be back in Havana for the tenth anniversary of the 26 July movement.

Announcer: Our Youth program and Radio Havana have spoken to a couple, Jack and Marsha Glenn, who are here in Havana as members of a student lobby that is visiting Cuba. And we can only hope that their visit will be a very enjoyable one. We are very glad to have them here.

Mr. NITTLE: Did you receive a response to your letter?
Mr. GLENN: Not from the ones we wrote to, but apparently one of them forwarded the letter on to the Student Committee. Somebody knew, and we got a response from the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba.

Mr. NITTLE: Was that from the Ad Hoc Student Committee for Travel to Cuba that you received a reply?

Mr. GLENN: Yes.

Mr. NITTLE: Do you recall who was the author of the response to you, what particular individual?

Mr. GLENN: No, I don't.

Mr. NITTLE: Was it Levi Lamb?

Mr. GLENN: It could have been, but I am not certain.

Mr. NITTLE: Did you, prior to June 25, 1963, correspond with, or receive any communication from, Stefan Martinot concerning this proposed trip to Cuba?

Mr. GLENN: Well, I just don't remember who it was. It could have been either one or both of those or it could have been someone else.

Mr. NITTLE: I am attempting to refresh your recollection. Did you have any correspondence with Anatol Schlosser or Phillip Abbott Luce?

Mr. GLENN: There might well have been. I don't remember which, if any. Names, of course, became very familiar to me on the trip, and I don't remember who it was that we corresponded with.

Mr. NITTLE: Mr. Glenn, are you a member of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee?

Mr. GLENN: Yes, that is true.

Mr. NITTLE: How long have you been a member of that committee?
Mr. GLENN: Well, I have been a sympathizer longer than I have been a member, but I would say I have been a member for about a year.

Mr. NITTLE: Commencing when?

Mr. GLENN: Sometime last fall.

Mr. NITTLE: I hand you a copy of a letter to the editor of the Indiana Daily Student, a campus publication of the Indiana University Department of Journalism, issue published February 10, 1962, a date prior to your visit to Cuba, which is signed by "John R. Glenn, Attorney-at-Law--Law, '61." The exhibit is marked for identification as "John Glenn Exhibit No. 4." Are you the author of that letter?

Mr. GLENN: That is true. I thought that was a rather good letter, as a matter of fact.

Mr. NITTLE: Mr. Chairman, I offer Exhibit 4 in evidence.

Mr. ICHOU: It is so admitted.

Mr. NITTLE: Your letter states, in part:

I am fully aware that all straight-thinking Americans are supposed to hate Castro by now, and think that Cuba is a nightmare of oppression. But the people in Fair Play are willing to argue to anyone who will listen that our government and our press are lying through their teeth.

Were you a member of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee at the time you wrote that letter?

Mr. GLENN: I don't know. Let's say I was. It doesn't make any difference to me.
