Dear Miss Meagher:

Thank you for your kind comment on Mr. Cohen's article. We will ask him to reply.

A miracle is beginning to emerge from the controversy. On one side is gathered a singular band of highly moral, highly intelligent and highly courageous people. On the other side, led by the Chief Justice, is a group of the most disreputable, the least intelligent and the most cowardly people in this country.

One of your colleagues is passing around the rumor on TV that President Johnson was discovered "chuckling" over the casket of the late President. This mild remark brought the outrageous reply from a Commission apologist that it was in bad taste. That, if nothing else, shows how far defenders of the Report will go.

Sincerely yours,

Phil Kerby
