Dear Sylvia:

I guess at this point I am as mystified as you on Gurvich's comment. The circumstances were: I told him of a witness here who had reported to the magazine that the day before the assassination, Clay Shaw contacted a clique of neo-Nazis in Berkeley. I remarked that this could be significant in light of the Arnoni report, to which he replied, "Yes, we just finished translating it from the Italian and it is extremely interesting."

Now if Arnoni did not send him the report, I wonder if (1) he got it somewhere else or (2) we weren't talking about the same thing. I had presumed from Arnoni's remarks that he was going to forward the report to Garrison.

Glad you were pleased with the Marinalia piece. The primer is heading for the printers and I'll send you a supply when it's ready.

Cordially,

Mrs. Sylvia Meagher
