Dear Mrs. Meagher:

Thanks for your kind letter of June 27. I'd love to see the article and illustrations you mentioned, dealing with the first bullet. But I should caution you at the outset that the chances of PLAYBOY publishing the piece, at this late date, very slim. Still, I wouldn't be a very professional magazine editor if I were to reject manuscripts prior to seeing them. The word of caution is simply to squelch unnecessary high hopes in the author's breast.

Best wishes,

Michael Laurence
