Dear Miss Robertson,

I appreciated your postcard of 24 February 1969 informing me that my review of the Paris Flammonde book would be in the March 7 issue. I have not received author's copies as yet, nor have I been able to find the March 7 issue at several newsstands where I looked for it. Perhaps the author's copies are in the mail to me—I hope so.

Meanwhile, I have done a short piece on the Clay Shaw trial. If it is suitable for Commonweal, I should be very pleased. If not, please let me know as soon as possible so that I can submit it elsewhere.

With thanks and best wishes,

Yours sincerely,
