Marguerite O. telephoned, just to find out what is new, when is my book coming out. Was more relaxed than usual but made sure to tell me that HW had cashed the check she had sent him in ordering WW3, which she found shocking...Was pleased that CBS used a good segment of her one-hour interview but felt they should have used more...Is certain there is interference with her mail and had a moment of sudden insight about how it was done...Also had sudden insight during CBS broadcast, which placed a particular individual high on her list of suspects...Regrets that she no longer receives TMO, as she cannot afford to subscribe to all the periodicals she would like to have...Is down to only $500 and will have to sell 2 more letters soon.
