Dear Miss Mann,
I heard you speak on Jack McKinney's program on WCAT.

If you have the time I would like you to answer the following question:

In Mark Lane's book, page 170, Mrs Earlene Roberts is quoted as saying that police car No. 207 stopped in front of Lee Oswald's residence. But in Harold Weisberg's book, page 55, the first two complete paragraphs keep referring to numbers 106 + 107 plus other numbers beginning with 10-.

Mr. McKinney also made the statement that the Zapruder movie did not have 18.3 frames per second.
However, he failed to mention the number of frames; and if you know, please let me know.
I remain

Sincerely,
Glen Myers

P.S. I hope I have spelled your name correctly. You and other critics of the Warren Report are doing tremendously valuable service in enlightening the public.
