My dear Curtis,

(1) Apparently you have not learned anything conclusive about the Dorothy Kilgallen transcript (examination of woman whose name is withheld); nor have I. However, I have been able to find out the name of Kilgallen's former secretary. That presents a new possibility of obtaining the information but I think the approach has to be made on the professional rather than the citizen level, by a "famous" name. So, if you feel able to part with the Xerox of the Kilgallen story, I should be glad to have it back.

(2) You have heard, of course, of the shocking death of William Whaley, the taxi-driver? Head-on collision. I am hoping for further details soon.

(3) I am enclosing a copy of a letter I received shortly after the Randi broadcast. You will realize from the contents and style that I neither fabricated nor solicited the letter or any of its parts. I hesitated to send you a copy, curious though I was to know the precise form of any snide comment which was likely to follow. However, I decided in the end that it would not be fair to withhold from you the knowledge that you have a supporter, in addition to Chas Kramer. I insist that the writer is your supporter, not mine; that should be obvious enough from his error in putting me in tandem first with one adversary and then with another.

If I find time to copy my reply to the enclosed letter, I may send that along too. It isn't really necessary, though--you are already acquainted with my views, ad (choose your own Latin phrase).

With kind impersonal regards,

Sylvia Meagher

Sorry for delay - have been out of town - you are too modest - in giving me the manner you were squeezing out a scrap of independence from you with a check to me Regards
