Dear Sylvia,

In the hectic days in New York I found little opportunity to read all the books of interest which were available. Besides the job in FAO I was teaching at night, taking French courses by day, etc.

So when your tome, Accomplices After the Fact, came out, I merely glanced through it, and left it at that. From time to time I read a segment, but never had the time to digest it from cover to cover.

Now that I am released from the constraints of FAO, New York city and earning a living, I am at last able to concentrate on one of my great loves: reading. Naturally, I have returned to your book. Last week I finished reading it intensely and deeply.

Such an approach to what you wrote has been most satisfying. It is an intellectual tour de force! Even though this is very late, I want to congratulate you most sincerely for the clarity, ingenuity of your development of theses contrary to those of the Warren Commission.

Besides reading your book for its novel approach and factual content, I set myself up as a critic seeking unproven allegations or unsubstantiated counter-theories. Everything you wrote met every mental criticism I could raise. This made my reading doubly enjoyable and rewarding.

From what I have learned or read since 1966 nothing has been advanced to controvert the points you discussed; nor, regrettably, has officialdom accepted your challenge to re-examine the facts and pseudo-facts upon which the Commission claimed to rely.

Despite the tragedy that your research and reasoned presentation have not resulted in any new look at the one-man one-gun obsession, I think you are entitled to highest praise for the completeness, honesty and intellectual precision of the deep study you did. I, for one, am pleased to join those who believe you have contributed significantly to the basic research needed for any renewed effort to ferret out and determine the truth. Congratulations!

So much for the kudos! I want to thank you again for the lovely lunch you gave me just before I left. It was kind of you, and I appreciate it.

Hopefully your health is good, and you will be able to withstand the vicissitudess (and boredom) of the forthcoming Fifth Committee.

Life here is very pleasant. Anne and I love our apartment overlooking a lovely lawn with trees, flowers, birds and a swimming pool just 50 yards away (which I use daily). The people here are nice; the little town, pleasant; crime, minimal. It is clean and relaxed; trades-people come on time, are efficient and charge reasonably. What a change from Fun City!

The plentitude of local fruits and vegetables helps in our weight reduction. Anne has lost 12 lbs; I, 21 lbs. This in turn helps us to feel well and happy.

Warmest wishes; hopefully this finds you in optimum health and spirits.

Sincerely
