Dear Miss Meagher:

I have only recently returned from a long trip to Asia and I found among the letters awaiting me yours which deals with some of my views with respect to the Warren Report.

I have just undertaken to read Mr. Epstein's book and am looking at Mark Lane's as well, and you may be certain that if I find anything which warrants a revision of opinion with respect to the assassination I will be the first to put it on public record.

With every good wish,
