Dear Mr. Handler,

After our telephone conversation yesterday, I felt that I should document some of the omissions, distortions, and misrepresentation--deliberate or inadvertent--to which I referred, giving exact quotations and citing the sources.

I have therefore copied some pages from an article I have submitted for magazine publication and am sending them to you for your information. It is self-evident that these capsules do not give a complete picture, in either of the two columns; indeed, many of the items are the subject of several pages of text in my book-length manuscript. However, the contradictions and discrepancies are essentially valid, despite the abbreviated form in which they are stated.

I hope that this data will be helpful to you in your current work on the Warren Report. With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Sylvia Meagher
