Dear John,

Your note of the 9th was waiting when I returned yesterday from three weeks in Boston where I was working at the World Health Assembly. I was sorry that I had missed your visit to New York and an opportunity to discuss your brief and the case in general. I hope to hear from you when there are new developments. While I was away I was completely out of touch with the outside world, except for the latest chapter in the affairs of the Kennedy family. It certainly arouses distaste and scepticism.

All the best,

=
Sincerely,
