"Investigations--Between Two Fires" pages 16-20, on Marina Oswald's appearance before the Warren Commission; includes statements by Oswald's mother, gives history her marriages, Oswald childhood--including psychiatric exam, Marine service, trip to USSR, marriage to Marina six weeks after meeting her, loan of $435.71 from U.S. Embassy Moscow, return to USA, alleged change of personality, mistreatment of Marina, rental of post office box under alias "A. Hidell", purchase of rifle, attempted shooting Gen. Walker; pro and anti Castro activities; trip to Mexico; map, the existence of which is now reinstated, quoting Ruth Paine as saying that she gave him "a city map of the Dallas-Fort Worth area--that infamous map--so he could find the places" (when looking for a job). Article states "After Kennedy's death that map was found in Oswald's room." Deals with Oswald movements immediately before and after JFK killed, states he killed Tippit with 3 bullets from a .38-cal. revolver; then describes Ruby, including his possible homosexuality; and reports that the Warren Commission so far has found that the FBI version of the crimes as acts of Oswald alone is correct. Whole story seems calculated to reinforce FBI report and still any
