

N.Y.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1979

Letters

Maniacal Evidence

To the Editor:

For the past 15 years The Times has espoused the official theory that President Kennedy was killed by a lone assassin. Now The Times suggests in an editorial ("A Conspiracy," Jan. 7) that the official line should be that he was assassinated not by "a conspiracy" but by "two maniacs."

The evidence that The Times's editorial was written by two or more maniacs seems stronger.

JAMES H. LESAR
Washington, Jan. 7, 1979