Taiwan Assures U.S. on Kennedy Book

By JOHN W. FINNEY

Special to The New York Times

versial book on President Ken- the department that it had rec- rialization of an abridged version of a pirated edition of the origi- Mr. McCloskey seemed to which plans to publish the book nal version of the book, "The rule out the possibility that next April.

ested as the United States Gov-the participants in the con-serial rights, some copies may ernment to see that no actions troversy. are taken by Chinese publishers of the United States Embassy in Taipei and officials of the

The discussions were initiated, according to the State tive in the legal efforts by Mrs. Department, by the Taiwan Kennedy to prevent publication WASHINGTON, Dec. 23 — Department, by the Taiwan Embassy here, which voiced its consea with the Chinese Nationalist Government the possibility of preventing publication in Taibave found its way into the wan of an unauthorized version of William Manchester's controlist of William Manchester's controlist of the manuscript might hands of publishing houses in this week when Look magazine, which will print a four-part seversial book on President Kennedy to prevent publication of the legal efforts by Mrs. Kennedy to prevent publication of the hook as originally written by Mr. Manchester. Ohe phase of the legal dispute was settled out of court this week when Look magazine, which will print a four-part seversial book on President Kennedy to prevent publication of the book as originally written by Mr. Manchester.

Death of a President."

The State Department's unusual at the distribution of the original man said tonight that "the script with a foreign government is as inter-ment was prompted by any of publishers and purchasers of carried with a source of the original manuscript among potential publishers and purchasers of carried with a source of the original manuscript among potential publishers and purchasers of carried with the original manuscript among potential publishers and purchasers of carried with the original manuscript among potential publishers and purchasers of carried with the original manuscript.

that, would be offensive to in-terested parties here in the partment intervention in Tai-United States" United States."

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department spokesman, confirmed that "discussions" about the manuscript had been held the manuscript had been held members of Congress.

No Katzenbach Message

Chinese Nationalist Government. of State Nicholas deB. Katzen- or part of it." Mr. McCloskey was vague bach said that no message reabout the nature of the dis- questing the United States Emment is not a signatory to the cussions, saying only that they bassy in Taipei to raise the International Copyright Condealt with "the manuscript." issue with the Nationalist Government had, been sent from business has developed on Taiby the State Department, how-Mr. Katzenbach's office. Mr. wan in publishing pirated low-ever, it was apparent that the Katzenbach is a former sub-cost editions of foreign books. discussions dealt with the pos-discussions dealt with the pos-sibility that unauthorized por-tions of the manuscript might be published in Taiwan.

The Nationalist Government separate that the pos-ordinate of Senator Robert F. The Nationalist Government has passed a law against book piracy, but there have been no friend of the Kennedy family. convictions under it.

Senator Kennedy has been ac-versial book on President Kennedy's assassination.

As a result of these recent diplomatic discussions, the Government in Taipei apparently has given assurances that it will attempt to prevent publication that Taiwan publishers be discouraged from using any such manuscript. Discussions were an invasion of her privacy. A suit by Mrs. Kennedy is still two Governments.

have found their way into the "So far as I am aware," he hands of pirate book publishers

A State Department spokesman said tonight, however, that "we have no evidence that the manuscript or any part of it is in Taiwan, nor does our present information give any indication that any Chinese publishing house is planning An aide to Under Secretary publication of the manuscript

Since the Nationalist Govern-