New Doubts Are Cast on Lone Kennedy Slayer

By BRUCE B. VAN DUSEN

Did a second killer join Lee Harvey Oswald in the assassination of John F. Kennedy?
The total body of evidence seemingly substantiates an answer of "no." But the question has been freshly — and quite responsibly — raised by a 30-year-old Harvard graduate student who has dug into the voluminous files of the Warren Commission to uncover facts and hypotheses either missed or glossed over by the distinguished commissioners.

The new researcher into the assassination records is Edward Jay Epstein, now a candidate for a Ph.D. in government and author of "Inquest — The Warren Commission and the Establishment of Truth," to be published June 29 by Viking Press.

Epstein raises anew questions about:
• The "dominant purpose" of the Warren Commission — was it established primarily to determine the truth, or to settle doubts and suspicions?
• The possibility of the "second assassin" — does available evidence question the conclusion that Oswald did all the shooting?

The inactivity of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the investigating arm of the commission produce confusion and com-one of a series of recently published, biased, independent restudies of the assassination. But Epstein's contradictions raise for the thoroughness and logicalness of the Warren Commission has peculiar

WARREN REPORT CHALLENGED

Question of Second Kennedy Assassin Again Being Asked

By ROBERT J. DONOVAN

WASHINGTON — Nearly 19 months after publication of the Warren Commission Report, the question of whether a second assassin may have been involved in the murder of President John F. Kennedy is again being asked. No new evidence has Sunday said, however, that the statements are false. The possibility Oswald had an accomplice suggests the imagination at this late date. Who could such a person be? If he exists, where is he? What is he doing? Is he still a potential assassin?

But the corner of Epstein's theory is discussing the "angle-shot theory" of Gov. Connally's being struck by a bullet that first hit President Kennedy.

The commission itself termed this point absolutely essential. "To say that they were hit by separate bullets is synonymous with saying that there were two assassins," Norman Redlich of the commission staff said to Epstein.

Remember that Epstein does not say this. He merely says the report fails to prove the contrary.

Inquest: How Many Assassins?

The shots which killed President Kennedy and wounded Governor Connally were fired by Lee Harvey Oswald. On the basis of the evidence before the commission, it concludes that Oswald acted alone.

He says some one else might have acted alone. There is a strong case that Oswald could not have acted alone," says Epstein. "In establishing its version of the truth, the Warren Commission acted to reassure the nation and protect the national interest."
