

AUG 4 - 1966

Being Careful

People in the news business are getting mighty careful. The first of the week a television announcer spoke of Charles Whitman as the "alleged" killer of a lot of strangers in Austin, Tex. The same fellow, presumably, speaks of Lee Harvey Oswald as the "alleged" assassin of President Kennedy, and of John Wilkes Booth as the "alleged" assassin of President Lincoln.