Telephone call from David Welsh, RAMPARTS, Thursday, 3.15 pm (at UN)

re my recent letter urging WR issue May if possible, even June is in question, and it now looks like July. He asked if my letter had anything to do with Mark Lane's forthcoming book; I said no, but it was a fairly similar reason about which I had given a solemn promise to say nothing more. He asked if it involved a lawsuit, to which I replied "no." I said that I had hoped for the May issue so that RAMPARTS would precede another event; in June, it would at least coincide; but in July, it would miss the boat, and anyway people would be on vacation, traveling, etc. The whole situation might be changed by July; RAMPARTS might be preaching to the already-converted. He said he would do his best but it looked like the June issue would be centered on a different subject.
