

Dear George — (RENNAR)

4/8/70

Just a quick note to say that I am glad that you are alive and well — but sorry about your bar exams. I offer you encouragement in the form of the NY METS, a nine-time loser team. Good Lord! There may even be hope for the WR critics!

Please don't bother Mrs. Ferrell further about the Arrangements — Not all that important.

I do agree with you about Brewer's book — surprisingly good, and good-natured. But I suppose no Garrison loyalist will read it impartially or fail to brand it a CIA-commissioned maneuver (anything to stop Tim!).

Yes, Larry Haapanen's work is certainly very painstaking and intelligent. I used to attach very great significance to the Hall-Howard-Seymour trio but when Garrison took up the theme I began involuntarily to put them in the same class as his other grandiose fictions — improperly, in this case, of course. Has anyone seen Seymour or his photo, to assess his resemblance to Oswald? And what about the new-comer, Vallee, so-called double?

Never heard of this guy Sherman Skolnick until this week — wonder if he really has something.

Have been fiercely busy and must rush off now — forgive abruptness, also, handwriting. Regards!
Julia
