Dear Sylvia,

Many thanks for your last package, in the mail today or tomorrow. Although I misplaced your paper clips, the material is in order. New for some comments in more detail, plus some questions.

What is most useful is material like your chronology, transcripts of interviews and phone conversations with the dramatis personae, letters and pronouncements from and to them, and similar material containing solid information about the Garrison hee-raw. In short, news. Naturally, it is impossible for you to know with any certainty what I have managed to snag and what I lack, so when in doubt, assume I haven't heard. Also very helpful are your analyses of the substantive issues involved, like "19106," and your hilarious excerpts from Turner's "Ramparts" article (how cruel of you!). What I don't particularly need are the effusions of idiots like Sorensen or prete-monsters like Griscom Mergan, unless such effusions emanate from Big Jim or his flock (Lane, Field, etc.). Anything out of the files in New Orleans would be nice (I have about 2,000 pp).

As to amount, the more the merrier. As far as I am concerned, my only limitations are your time constraints.

(like dates)
You to Jones, 29 Jul 67: I would appreciate details of the Shaw-Gruber telephone link claim and the subsequent retraction. Also, what reporter did Harris call a Communist, when and where, and what were the circumstances?

You to Schoener, 16 Nov 68: What were the dates of Garrison's Apr 67 New York trip, what did he do, and what alias did he use?

You to Field, 21 Sep 67: I don't know anything about Lane's attack on you re "National Guardian." Also, could I see your 29 Mar 67 Lane pronouncement?

You to Armoni, 10 Oct 67: Did Turner, Marcus, Richter and/or Labre say that Garrison himself or any of his staffers described Gurvich as being chief investigator?

Would you like me to send you an inventory of what I have received from you so far? It might avoid duplication.

Meanwhile, on the second front, I'm still job-hunting. Ugh. I have about 6 clients awaiting my coming to roost. Hope I get a job soon so I can get all these folks divorced, sued & legitimized. A friend summarized the situation well: George Renner, Attorney at Last.

Well, anyway, take care. My four year old nephew wants to play with the typewriter, so I'd better play dutiful uncle.

Best wishes,

hoze
