

CLUB HEARS STUDY OF WARREN REPORT

Exceptions to Findings Are Discussed by Attorney

Exceptions to the "Warren Report on President Kennedy's Assassination" were presented to the Lansdale Rotarians at their regular weekly meeting last night at Whispering Pines.

The speaker was Philadelphia attorney Vincent J. Salandria, who became more specific in the title of his speech by calling it "A Philadelphia Lawyer Analyzes the President's Back and Neck Wounds". He has made a thorough study, he said, of the Warren Report, of supporting documents and the exhibits for this report. He examined the material in the archives in Washington and has come to the conclusion the actual shooting of President Kennedy and Governor Connor, of Texas, could only have been accomplished by two or more men shooting from ambush in front and to the right of the presidential car.

Salandria has spoken and written extensively on the result of his research and quotes authentic sources much of which, he claims, has never been placed before the Warren Committee.

The speaker was introduced by Thomas Guckin, program chairman of the club. President Walter King presided. Vice President Leon Strohecker gave a report on the activities he attended at the Rotary Interna-

Warren Report

(Continued on page three)

NORTH PENN
REPORTER
Lansdale, Pa.
JUN 22 1966
DATE

Warren Report

(Continued from page one)

tional convention, in Denver last week. He stated there were 16,000 visitors at the convention from clubs all over the world.

Attending last night's meeting were Jesse K. Cope, Jr., past district governor and a member of the local club, who is now living with his daughter and family in Nutley, N. J.

Other guests included Mayor Ellis P. Delp, who was the guest of his son, Ellis B. Delp; Gale Reid, of the North Penn High School faculty, a guest of Kenneth Schmidt, and Mark Huber, guest of his father, Dr. Robert Huber. The visiting Rotarians were introduced by Richard Strehle. They were Hubert Williams, of Glenside; B. Anton Hess, Doylestown; William Kerr, of Mt. Penn and a former member of the local club when he was on the staff of the North Penn High School as curriculum coordinator, and W. Wistar Wood, of Philadelphia.

Club singing was under the direction of John J. Gray with Ernest Brenneman at the piano.