Vince,

Probably Wecht was over-cautious about the 313 head shot, I don't really know why. But he has been quite outspoken on radio. I am sending you herewith my ONLY copies of notes I transcribed from tapes of his broadcasts, in case you had not seen them already.

Please read and return them as soon as possible. I think you might agree that his problem is not timidity but something else--perhaps on the day in question he felt at a disadvantage because some of the others present, Tink especially, had such remarkable expertise about the film and autopsy/medical evidence.

Much love, dear.

Hastily,
