Dear Tom:

I read your "Lambs at Play". In it you make reference to the "fruitless investigation by Salandria of that seemingly most likely JFK assassination suspect--Vaganov." I quite agree with you in this matter. The government would be very happy for us to go into the business of conducting such fruitless searches. With all the sentiments you express in "Lambs at Play", you have my agreement.

How are you, Tom? Can't we arrange to meet in the near future and discuss the developments? Give my regards to your wife.

Affectionately,

Vince Salandria
