Dear Mr Sprague,

Your letter whetted my appetite. I would like very much to lay hands on the twenty-eight issues of Computers and Automation containing articles on the Kennedy (and other?) assassinations. But I don't know how to get them. My request to Mr Berkeley for issues containing such material has been long unanswered. Can you exert your good offices to arrange shipment of at least what you have written? Who wrote the others? Salandria, I suppose. What about Sylvia Meagher? Anything by Wecht who, I understand, at last has secured permission to examine the long suppressed autopsy photographs and Xrays?

Exactly what is involved in bringing your unfinished research projects in photographic analysis to completion? Is it on the order of my pieces on the Zapruder film?

Sincerely yours,
