Dear Sylvia,

Our contact revives! Good! How odd that Lifton's piteous plea for approbation should tauter the slack threads of our relationship!

Irony is the gift of years, the plaything of the muse of history.

Your letter sharpens dormant curiosity.

What about Wecht? What passed between you? May I see the Enquirer interview? Can I get a copy? Who is Williams?

And Russell Fisher? And Hoffman?

I feel with regard to the Kennedy assassination I have been hibernating.

Bring me spring.

We're off to Philadelphia for the weekend and will return Monday.

Then let's arrange to meet. It will be more than a year!

Tom
