

These were damned good suggestions by Carr. They were never acted upon, which merely adds to the existing reasons for concluding that the Commission made no earnest attempt to investigate Oswald's alleged undercover role for the FBI or some other Government intelligence agency.