Dear Sylvia:

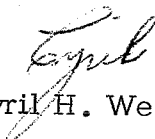

Thank you for your letter of 26 April 1971. (Incidentally, I got the carbon with your short handwritten note to Tink, and he must have gotten my original by mistake. I am sending your note to him with a copy of this letter.)

I agree with your reasoning, and I would welcome your suggestions as to the specific language in which I should couch my request to Burke Marshall. Also, please send me his address if you have it. When do you think my letter to him should be mailed?

I shall look forward to hearing from you and Tink concerning these items.

With kind regards.

Sincerely,

Cyril H. Wecht, M.D., J.D.

P.S. As you know, I am capable of writing an intelligent letter, and I have no hesitancy in communicating with Marshall. However, I want to make sure that I use the necessary words and submit my request in the proper format.
