Dear Sylvia:

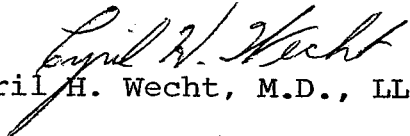

Thank you for your letter of 24 January and for the copy of Kupferman's letter to the National Archives. I certainly am anxious to learn whether he has heard from them and what the nature of their reply was. I shall write to him in a few days, especially if I do not get to New York as planned next weekend.

I agree with you that there is a definite campaign, organized or spontaneous, to impugn the knowledge and abilities of the critics of the Warren Commission Report. I can become very angry and disturbed when I read such remarks.

I am glad to hear that you had a good trip to Canada and the West Coast. The more people that are made aware of the deficiencies and contradictions of the Warren Commission Report, the closer we will come to some sort of re-investigation.

With kind regards,

Sincerely,

Cyril H. Wecht, M.D., LL.B.
