Dear Sylvia:

Thank you for your letter of 11 February 1968 bringing me up-to-date on the New York program of Monday, February 12. I would be anxious to find out how things went. Were you in attendance or have you had a chance to speak to reliable sources who were? What kind of attendance was there and how angry were people at my failure to appear (if, indeed, anyone besides Trent Gough even noted or cared about my absence!)?

I am much puzzled and somewhat dismayed by Tink's role in this entire affair. If he planned all along to participate himself, then why in the world would he call and strongly suggest that I withdraw?!

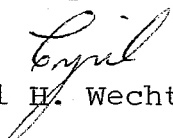

I am enclosing a recent article which I am certain will disturb you as much as it did me. I know the Editor quite well, so if you wish to respond, then I believe I might be able to secure ample coverage for your reply.

In reply to your query regarding Garrison, the answer is that people always ask me about Garrison each time I speak about the Warren Commission Report. Many think that he is a political charlatan and a flamboyant ass, but others seem to be sympathetic.

I hope to see you in New York in early March.

With warmest personal regards.

Sincerely,

Cyril H. Wecht, M.D., LL.B.
