

27 July 1969

Dear Cyril,

Just got back from three weeks in Boston to find your kind letter of the 18th as well as a copy of the 1969 LEGAL MEDICINE ANNUAL that you were good enough to have the publishers send me. My warm congratulations on this significant and imposing work. I look forward to reading it as soon as I can clear the decks of the chores that have accumulated during my absence.

I have been in a sealed environment (in Boston) and completely out of touch with the case. But the latest chapter in the affairs of the Kennedy family got saturation coverage in Boston. A very sordid business. They did not lift a finger to help uncover the truth about Dallas, and now they are moving heaven and earth to exonerate a man who is guilty of more than he admitted to in his very slick apologia.

Would be interested to know what you think of the accident and aftermath.

With all good wishes and sincere thanks for the book,

Cordially,
