

2/1/67

Sorry to have made the same typo on the envelope twice in two days.

I'll be up the sixth, possibly the afternoon of the fifth, en route to some appearances in New England. I'll phone and I hope in that one day I will not have more to do than I can. It is possible I'll stop off Friday on the way back if Dell lines up anything for me to do.

They now say they want to reprint II, and of course I'm interested because of the wider audience it will give me, but I want them first to consider immediate hardback. Also, I am far from satisfied about their performance under the contract. So, in addition to the people I have to see, such as at Saga, which is reprinting "The False Oswald" from WHITEWASH, I have to find time to get some advice from people knowledgeable in the field.

Tom has been at the Archives this week. He just phoned. He says he has found but little in the concentration on New Orleans but I suspect, from what he has said over the phone, he may have some interesting Bringuier items...I have asked Jack McKinney, who is a moderator and not a Martha Dean, to invite Nizer to debate me on his program...Interest continues great on WHITEWASH III (seven orders today) and as I find more it grows in size and cost.
