Mary, Sylvia, Paul, Gary, Dick, Howard,

The transcript of the hearing on the spectro case, in which the government won a dismissal we are appealing, and the official copy of the decision, reached Bud's office today. He was not in both times I was there. Based on the size, I would estimate that if anyone wants a copy, even with the higher charges in Washington, that it would be but about $1.25-$1.50 for the xeroxing.

I had suggested sending it to Mary and asking her to make copies for those desiring them. However, I do not think it right to trouble her for so small an amount. Therefore, I have this suggestion to make:

If anyone is certain he wants this, I'll have copies made in DC and mail them to each. I can make an extra set which you can circulate, from one to another, to read and, if desired, copy on your own facilities.

This is a carbon of the typescript. It seems fairly clear, and I think a copy of a copy, on a decent machine, would be legible enough.

Today I filed a motion for a summary judgment in my suit for the clothing/pix, with a couple of lengthy affidavits attached showing the spuriousness of several of the points made by the government in its "answer". Wextyped the affidavits here, and I have an extra copy of each that can be circulated. The legal papers were retyped by Bud's secretary. For some reason, she made by the minimum number of pages. We therefore have but one set for me, one set for Bud, and the exact number required for the court and the various people upon whom they must be served. It is on legal-sized paper. Again, I can have a set xeroxed and it can be passed around, if desired. In Bud's absence, I had a brief discussion with his partner about my plans for calling witnesses and who I'll call. We are in essential agreement, Clark and Marshall, for two, on the meaning of the letter-agreement and interpretation of what would tend to be sensational or undignified usage, each being asked to compare, under oath, those readily available and those I asked for, where I now have one such. Mine is the only one not all gore, and those I seek are all without gore. Perhaps Rhoads the same way (I've already challenged him and Marshall this way in writing, sending Marshall the pictures—he didn't answer the question, merely said he left it up to Rhoads, which is fine, because it says Rhoads can give them to me).

Sincerely, HW
