The Politics of Conspiracy Conference

The Dallas Times Herald

The three day national conference on the Politics of Conspiracy, the first of its kind in Boston, comes to Boston University this weekend, Jan. 31 through Feb. 2, with discussions and workshops by conspiracy luminaries from all over the country. For details, contact the Assassination Information Bureau, 661-8411 or write to the AIB at 63 Inman St., Cambridge, 02139. Tickets: $7 for all three days or $3 for single day events.

FRIDAY JAN 31:

In Morse Auditorium (602 Comm. Ave.) at 8 pm, Jim Garrison delivers his keynote address on the significance and state of conspiracy investigations today. Peter Dale Scott (who researched CIA links to the JFK coverup); Penn Jones (another assassination researcher); Wayne Chastain (Memphis reporter who investigated King's murder); Donald Freed (who wrote the screenplay for the film "Executive Action") and Theodore Charach (primary researcher in the JFK killing) will all join in a panel discussion of the state of current research.

SATURDAY FEB. 1:

First Session: In the Sherman Union Conference Auditorium (775 Comm. Ave.) a showing of the film "The Second Gun" by Charach who will discuss his research. Following at 2 pm, a workshop on the JFK case with Mark Lane and Penn Jones, Peter Scott, Richard Popkin and the films of Robert Groden. At 4:30 pm, Carl Oglesby heads a workshop on his Yankee-Cowboy theories.

Beginning at 10 am in the West Ballroom a discussion by Mae Bussell (assassination researcher for the past 10 years); a workshop on the Wallace shooting with Bill Turner (ex-FBI agent and conspiracy researcher); and a workshop on Domestic Intelligence with Turner, Popkin, Freed and the investigative group, The Fifth Estate.

In the East Ballroom, a workshop on organized crime and the economics of conspiracy with Jeff Gerth (radical journalist who has investigated Nixon's ties with the Mafia) and Peter Scott at 10 am; a workshop on the King case with Chastain at 1 pm; and a talk by Sherman Skolnick on a topic of his choice at 4 pm.

Second Session: The highlight of the conference comes Saturday night at 8 pm in Morse Auditorium with a panel discussion on "Who Done it?" with Lane, Turner, Jones, Freed and Popkin, who will consider the conclusions that can be drawn from a decade of research.

SUNDAY FEB. 2:

The conference ends Sunday with a general session at 12 noon in Morse Auditorium where plans will be laid for courses of action to take for resolving the crimes and exposing their coverups
