

3/28/81

Dear Sylvia,

Hope this letter reaches you in good spirits and good health.

I suffered a nervous breakdown but am making what is termed "excellent progress" and am well on the road to recovery.

It's spring now and quite lovely.

I was saddened by Dick Bernabei's untimely death.

I read Hifton's book and found it brilliant but absurd. For me the answer to the autopsy discrepancies is less dramatic. The findings were altered and the "best evidence" was later falsified to the extent of producing "national" autopsy photos and X-rays. The evidence and testimony of the Parkland medical personnel and other witnesses is completely persuasive of a front shot.

The H.S.C.A. investigation was a fraud and Forzi gave it a good exposure in The Washingtonian of 11/80.

Congress didn't want a real investigation (exit Sprague) and they didn't conduct one.

I suppose "The Mob Hit Kennedy" they represents a "modified,
limited hang out solution"
although the organized crime section of their
report was a rambling,
incoherent hodgepodge
of the irrelevant.

No wonder most of their research was classified for the truth wanted have been a
first shot in the middle of a cover-up
to a later Stenhal's Don mat.

Have you written
anything on the subject except for the index
compilation

Do tell me what you are doing!

Best Wishes,
