

Dear Ed,

2/26/98

We've not moved but we have had a number of addresses since I had the envelopes reprinted. It is a bit faster if the street number we now have is used.

I could not finish the Hitchens vomit in the London Review of Books. If I had had its address I'd have sent it a few of the things Hitchens pretends did not exist. The young fogeys like him are pretty disgusting. They do not need fact because they have the likes and dislikes, particularly the hatreds with which they begin.

That anyone could go for some of the Hersh stupidities surprises me. Like that Giancana nonsense. With Bobby trying to put him in jail.

Besides which I have it from the CIA that only six high officials of the CIA knew about that outrageous stupidity. And the CIA says the mafia hoods refused to take a penny.

Thus Exner had to take money to him?

Thanks and best,

Hal
