Harold Weisberg

Dear Harold:

I bring you news of the World Chicken Festival in London, KY. I know you are always concerned with chicken marketing.

I also send you some articles on libel rulings, the mistakes in another documentary, the new one on baseball, and one of the Wall Street Journal on the Disney history park. Also, one of the darndest things I have ever seen.

Slick Times is a satirical magazine that slams President Clinton with articles that are a combination of libel, slander, and made up "facts". On the back cover, there is an ad for National Lampoon, another satirical mag, with Lee Harvey Oswald.

I have had some trouble finding the Garrison letter you want. I'll keep looking.

I have written another letter to Jane Norris, see enclosed. I am taking the squeaky wheel gets the grease attitude.

In November, I have my first case in the Kentucky Court of Appeals, concerning open records laws. I have signed off on it for a fellow attorney, who wants the names and addresses of anyone who has filed a worker's compensation claim so he can send them a letter. Much as local attorneys do after an auto accident. He did not want to go pro se, he is going to do the oral arguments, but I still have to buy a new suit. It's almost a FOIA case, insurance companies can get this info but plaintiff's attorneys cannot.

I also enclose an X article on Jane Norris, and one on Harry Merritt, who is writing the bio of Sen. Cooper.

Betsy says to say HI to you and Lil. It looks to me like I have to sign o-f so I can replace the correction ribbon.

How have sales of your two books been? I have yet to see a review or an ad.

Bill
