

Dear Bill,

10/6/94

I've not responded to your last three letters because I've been rushing to get what I've written and corrected on another book in the event the woman who is ~~ix~~ retyping it comes for more this weekend.

I'm sorry Norris wants to wait for the stereotypical approach of remembering the anniversary. That is a showbiz not a news of legit. interest approach and one I'm certain was not taken with Posner. If she would then use me to accredit some of the nuts I'd decline, as I have TV fairly often, because I do not want to give them credibility. But thanks for the time and effort. She probably does not know many people who do not just love personal attention and accept it only to inform people. And not misinform.

I fear your political analysis is only too correct. ~~The only~~ ^{the} politics were better as were all politics, despite ~~the~~ ^{the} crookedness, before TV.

Hah, that was not any real chicken content. It was a wing without the ding of one.

I found the libel and the other articles interesting and passed some along. Thanks

I have no idea of how the two books are selling. I've not gotten any accounting and do not remember when any is due.

I'm curious about the possibility of last-minute editing on the Posner reprint because I'd heard from two sources that someone claiming closeness to Livingstone said he was helping Posner with nastiness about some of us. Livingstone did help his lawyers in the suit Groden brought. He has not responded on helping Posner, ^{which} means no denial.

I hope you do find more on those exotic planes but if you do not or if it takes too much work I can make out with what I've already written about them albeit sourceless ly.

Nothing really new. I wish Wrono had more time for his paper on the abuses of the Indians. He has developed much worthwhile info but with a heavy school load ^{ends} takes the time preparing it requires. I think it will in time make an important book.

Part of the rush on getting what I've written corrected ^{from} comes for the time taken by extra medical appointments and with dentists. It took two of them, one in microdentistry, to get a single root canal job done in several visits @ about $1300 for the tooth that may not last long. And of the ^{five} ~~four~~ working days this week I'll have had four blood tests with tomorrow's. I think it was my inability to chew without the dentures ^{in two weeks} that reduced my Vitamin K intake and ^{then} ~~this the~~ Vitamin K and my prothrombin times went crazy, in both directions. As of yesterday it ^{was} ~~was~~ barely over base, ~~of~~ with almost no anti-coagulation.

We are about as we have been, ^{all} hope you are all OK. And that all the fishermen enjoy the coming fishing w/o any groundings or other problems.

Best,

Harold
